EL VERANO MAN SUICIDES BY POISON

Giovanni Tacconi Takes Strychnine Following Despondency. Dies at Crane's Sanitarium.

Giovanni Tacconi, for 14 years caretaker and dependable employee of Paul Vannucchi's resort, Verano, took poison with suicidal intent Thursday morning and despite all first aid measures died at Crane's Sanitarium shortly afterwards. Tacconi had been in poor health which of late seemed to affect his mind. He was to have gone to a doctor in San Francisco Thursday with his sister for treatment and while in the kitchen suddenly declared he wanted to take some medicine and left for his room. Shortly afterwards he was discovered in convulsions and managed to tell Mrs. Vannucchi and others who tried to aid him that he had taken strychnine and wanted to die. He was rushed to Crane's Sanitarium and antidotes given by Dr. Thomson, but the big dose of poison did its fatal work and Tacconi passed away.

He leaves a sister who came recently from the old country to be near her brother, several cousins and many friends to mourn his death. The Vannucchis treated him like one of their own family and he will be greatly missed. Tacconi was 41 years of age.

Miss F. Cannobio who is with the Mutual Life Insurance Company in San Francisco was visiting her parents at Caliente over Sunday.

MANY MOURN THE DEATH OF S. CIUCCI

Prominent Sonoma Hotel Man Passed To the Great Beyond Tuesday Morning.

Settimo Ciucci, for many years the proprietor of the Toscano Hotel, died Tuesday at 11 a. m., following an illness of many months. His passing is deeply regretted by friends throughout the state and he will be mourned by his devoted wife and only daughter, Amelia Ciucci Walton, who did all that loving kindness could do during the last hours of his fatal illness. Medical skill and the best nursing could do little for the sufferer, however, and the day before he passed away the genial hotel man lapsed into unconsciousness from which he never rallied. Perhaps no man in Sonoma was better known than Ciucci, as he was familiarly known by friends and patrons from near and far. Endowed with a natural spirit of hospitality and a personality which took with the public, he made and kept his friends, many remembering his good fellowship and kindly ways even in the days when as a young man he worked on the section for the N. W. P. railroad, then the Donahue line.

Coming to this country from Italy when a youth Mr. Ciucci, through industry and thrift, was soon able to go into business for himself. He became a valued citizen of this community where he spent the greater part of his life and where he married Miss Amelia Boccoli, of a prominent Sonoma family. (Continued on Page Five.)

WOMAN FIGURES IN CUTTING SCRAPE

Female Knife Wielder Carves Escort and Affray Ends in Justice Court.

Roy Simon of Sacramento got tired of waiting for the wild and woolly days of 49 soon to be celebrated at the state capital and came to Sonoma Valley over the May day week end for a little touch of high life. He got more than he bargained for when his jealous wife who accompanied him took exceptions to his attentions to a cabaret entertainer up the valley and pulled a knife on her too gay spouse. A fight on the highway in front of a prominent resort ended with the Sacramento women seizing a small pearl handled knife and viciously cutting her companion across the forehead and on the wrist. Cries of murder from bystanders brought deputy Sheriff Ryan to the scene of the trouble and he promptly placed Simon and his wife under arrest. Simon was bleeding profusely from the knife wounds and was hurried to the office of Dr. Hays. There it was found that an artery had been severed and the surgeon had to take 18 stitches in the gaping wound in his forehead. To the doctor's astonishment his patient never budged during the painful operation, a liberal cargo of jackass brandy evidently making him immune to pain.

After leaving the doctor's office, Simon and his wife were taken to Santa Rosa and locked up for the night. The following day they appeared before Judge Small to answer to the charge of disturbing the peace. A fine of $100 each was assessed against them, and upon the plea that he was growing a special mess of whiskers for the mining camp fiesta

NOT FIRE MENACES BUSINESS DISTRICT

Sam Lewis Market Scene of Threatening Blaze. Other Property Menaced. Fire Engine Proves Worth.

One of the most spectacular and menacing fires in years broke out in Sam Lewis' meat market at 6:20 p. m. last Monday and threatened the entire Cleve and Union Hotel block. When first seen, the flames were bursting through the roof of the market and dense black smoke billowed skyward with menacing omen to the big hotel and other buildings nearby. The fire must have gained at least a five minutes' headway before being detected and by the time the fire alarm was rung and the engine arrived the flames seemed beyond control. The fire department, however, with remarkable speed and judgment soon had three streams of water playing on the flaming roof, the Waterous fire engine proving again its great merit and value in such exigencies. The Union Hotel balcony adjoining the market, and the real estate office of W. W. Carter took fire while flames licked the windows on the east side of the hotel, fortunately protected to some extent by iron shutters. The firemen, however, put out all blazes which started in the vicinity and succeeded in stopping the fire right where it started only the tar roof of the market being destroyed.

The damage to the rest of the building was principally from water. During the excitement of fire fighting, Dal Emparan, intrepid volunteer fireman, fell from a cornice which gave way as he was climbing to the porch of the Union Hotel to fight back the fire and in the fall his leg was broken in two places above the ankle. He was carried to the office of Dr. Thomson and the limb immediately set.

Henry Heuer was another one hurt at the fire. In closing an iron shutter to shut out the flames from the Union Hotel the heavy barrier slammed and badly crushed Heuer's finger. John Steiner, Jr., was also slightly burned.

Guests at the Union Hotel fled from the dining room at the alarm of fire, many rushing to their room and packing their trunks to escape. The heroic fire ladders of Sonoma and the wonderful apparatus which is now at their command, however, saved Sonoma from one of the worst fires in the history of the town. Despite the many low, frame shacks at the rear of the market and a frame store not ten feet away, the hot fire was under control within twelve minutes after the engine was out of the city hall. There was ample water and the engine threw three powerful streams, the dependable pump working like clock work as it took the water from the fire hydrant.

Sam Lewis, proprietor of the market, had locked up his place of business for the day and was on his way home when he saw the flame and smoke burst out of the roof of his shop. He can give no solution of the origin of the fire other than crossed electrical wires.

Damage to the property is estimated at several hundred dollars. The buildings are owned by the F. Cleve estate.

at Sacramento Simons was permitted to return to his old stamping ground after paying the fine for himself and wife. The couple were said to have become reconciled after the effects of the "white mule" refreshment wore off and they realized their predicament.

SUDDEN DEATH OF JOHN DECANINI

Popular Proprietor of Fior d' Italia Hotel Succumbs to Pneumonia on Thursday Evening.

John Decanini, popular proprietor of the Fior d' Italia Hotel, died on Thursday after a brief illness from pneumonia.

For several years he had been engaged in the hotel business in Sonoma and before going into business for himself was chef for S. Ciucci. The death of his former employer preceded his own by just one day.

Mr. Decanini was an excellent cook, a natural caterer and one of the best hearted men in Sonoma Valley. He had a keen sense of humor and kindly way which won him many friends. In business his word was his bond and his integrity won him success and prosperity. Recently he purchased a fine piece of business property and also renewed his lease on the hotel property which was to be highly improved for him by the owner, Sam Sebastiani.

Deceased was a native of Italy and is survived by his wife, formerly Josie Proletti and a little son, Edward. A sister, Mrs. C. Minelli, of Sonoma; a brother, Michael, residing here and five brothers and sisters in Italy survive deceased.

The grief of the stricken wife was pitiful when she was told of the death of her husband. While in a hysterical condition from her sorrow, she threw a plate at those seeking to console her, and by chance it struck Dr. Hays, attending physician, painfully injuring him. She was finally quieted and is now bearing her sorrow in fortitude.

The funeral will take place today at 3:30, immediately after the obsequies for S. Ciucci.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman and children have been here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hatton.

THREE DAYS CARNIVAL PROVED GRAND SUCCESS

Queen Claire's Reign Ends Monday Night at Boyes Springs After a Joyous Reign.

The first annual May Day carnival given under the auspices of the Boyes Springs New Improvement Club will go down in community history as one of the most successful three days' affairs ever given in the Valley of the Moon. The organization of live-wire progressive residents of Boyes may well be proud of their achievements for they have set an example of harmonious cooperation in an undertaking which will do much toward cementing the booster spirit in Sonoma Valley and will herald the charms of our spring time to many who knew only of this section as the land of summer vacationing.

Ideal weather ushered in the festivities over which Queen Claire Farrell and her charming ladies-in-waiting were to so successfully rule. Following the arrival of Saturday morning's train, the coronation ceremonies were staged on the grandstand especially erected for this impressive and happy event under the oaks near Boyes Springs clubhouse. The queen radiantly beautiful in her shimmering white satin gown with court train and surrounded by her ladies-in-waiting, Josephyne Pan-crazi, Pearl Wagner, Genevieve White, and Ida Marks, made a beautiful picture. Mayor Minges in silk tulle lent dignity and official import to the royal party. The pages were Olive Taylor and Miss Elodi and the royal trumpeter Master Schmidt. On the platform participating in the coronation ceremonies were Senator Herbert Slater orator of the occasion and Chief W. B. Cause, director general of the Carnival. After Queen Claire had been officially crowned and the royal party and others felicitated. (Continued on Page Four)

Twenty-Five Years Ago

From Files of The Index-Tribune

Carl Dresel took a spin on his bicycle over our beautiful roads last Wednesday.

Julius E. Poppe has been in Redwood City attending the Grand Parlor of N. S. G. W. as a delegate of Sonoma Parlor No. 111.

The Ladies of the Congregational Church are arranging for an entertainment to raise funds to purchase a railing for the pulpit of the church.

Mrs. A. F. Pauli, the accommodating operator of the Western Union returned from Los Angeles last Saturday after a well merited vacation. Master Roy Pauli accompanied his mother.

Mrs. Ohm and Miss Goodman started Tuesday morning on a tour on their bicycles. They intend visiting Santa Rosa, Healdsburg and Bloomfield and will be the guests of relatives and friends.

Dr. Winslow Anderson of S. F. accompanied by a party of twelve, will visit the Agua Rica Hot mineral springs tomorrow. Among the party are a number of capitalists who will inspect the springs with a view of purchasing and converting the property into a first class sanitarium. These springs are becoming noted far and wide for the medicinal qualities of their waters and a fortune awaits one who will throw them open to the general public.

Last Monday was a lively day at Schellville. There were tied up in front of Vollmer's hotel at one time in the afternoon, one four horse team three two horse wagons, one buggy and two go-carts.

N. W. Griswold vice president of the much talked of electric railroad between this place and Santa Rosa, reports great interest in the enterprise. It strikes us that if this road is ever to be built that the promoters ought to be getting a "move on."

On motion of Trustee Modini seconded by Trustee V. Bulotti, the Plaza committee was instructed to invite bids to remove the grass from the avenues leading to the pavilion, to mow down the grass on the Plaza and clean the ditch running through the same.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO ORGANIZE

A gathering of citizens was held on Monday night at the Sonoma Congregational church, for the purpose of organizing for the waging of a campaign of education respecting the Wright enforcement act, which is to be on the ballot as a referendum measure in the November election.

Charles H. Masters, district organizer, explained the purpose of the organization.

Ex-Supervisor Blair Hart was a welcome visitor to Sonoma Thursday coming over to pay his respects to the family of his old friend, S. Ciucci, whose death he deeply regrets.

PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC OFFICIALS HERE

Frederick S. Myrtle, manager of the publicity department of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, accompanied by the Northern Division superintendent, with offices at San Rafael, were in Sonoma Wednesday in the interest of their company. The gentlemen were looking over the field which one of their subsidiary companies serves with the idea of co-operating in any way possible to better serve the consumers and ascertain the needs of this growing territory.

When asked about the possibilities of securing gas for Sonoma Valley consumers Mr. Myrtle declared it quite possible when a sufficient number of signatures shall have been secured. It is plainly, therefore, up to our local people to get busy on preliminaries for this great boon to the housewives. With the many new homeseekers coming here to reside from up-to-date centers, the greatest drawback to home comfort in Sonoma Valley, particularly in summer is the lack of gas.

Mr. Myrtle, who is an experienced newspaper man formerly of the Examiner staff, has widened the scope of the publicity department of the Pacific Gas and Electric and is a valued member of the organization. He is a keen student of the public pulse and realizes what the people want to know about their public service utilities.

EXCELLENT STOCK COMPANY COMING TO DON

Sonoma playgoers will be glad to learn that the Maylon Players, a metropolitan troupe of exceptional merit and balance, will present The Man From Arkansas at the Don Theatre here Tuesday night, May 9th.

Heading the Players are Robert E. Lawrence and Caroline Edwards, two of the strongest, most talented, most versatile artists on the stage today. Their work is natural—they live their parts. Supporting these two stars is a company which for excellence and balance is seldom seen on the stage. Selected for their special talents, the actors and actresses of the troupe blend themselves into the whole with the result that each presentation of a play is beyond criticism.

This company will play the Don every Tuesday night. Vaudeville between acts. Prices children 25c adults 55c.

after a strenuous time at the Carnival held at that place. Harry looked tired out.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan is to be congratulated on the way he handled the large crowd and the automobile traffic at the Boyes Springs carnival Sunday afternoon.

Joe Danieli and D. Forni motored to Sacramento last Friday and on the return trip picked up Colonel Harry Bell at Cordelia and brought him over to Boyes Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lordeaux went to Oakland Sunday and joined the Rensselaer Parlor, N. S. G. W., in their annual picnic at Niles. Mr. Lordeaux is a leading Native of the Parlor. They report a good time.

The sad news reached here Monday of the death of Clark Brannan in San Francisco. Mr. Brannan had resided in Sonoma Vista the past two years. He had recently lost his voice and had been ailing for some time. The funeral was held in San wife who resides in E. F.

A whiskers club is to be organized here shortly. A number of our business men headed by Archie McKiver have already signed up and will take their last shave Saturday evening then let 'em grow and invade Sacramento at the 49 show next month. A prize of $49 is being offered for the best "whiskerinos" and an El Veranoite expects to bring home the bacon.

One of the big hits at the Boyes Springs carnival Saturday evening was the kangaroo court with Jim Post formerly famous comedian, acting as judge and Frank Sprague of Sonoma as prosecuting attorney. A number of the natives were hauled before his Honor, and fined, having been arrested for different alleged offenses. It was a scream, and quite a few of those attending were found guilty and fined 50c to a dollar.

Andrew Goess, Sonoma pioneer, was one of the many who took a ride with Jimmy Murphy in his airplane Sunday. Andy stepped up to the flyer, produced the fare and told the aviator that he wanted to take a straight ride and no monkey business. Andrew had his ride and says it is fine up near heaven, no trees or bad roads to bother with, and that some day he will have an air machine of his own. He claims Murphy is a careful aviator.

Last Sunday while the Boyes Springs carnival was being held, Miss Dorothy Lane, the 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lane of Sonoma Vista, was struck by a Ford car driven by Mr. Erickson. The little one was taken to the club house. Dr. Thomson arrived on the scene several minutes later, giving first aid. At this writing the patient is getting along nicely and it is said by those who were eye witnesses that the accident was unavoidable.

All roads lead to Sonoma Saturday evening, to take in the vaudeville show given for the benefit of the St. Francis church. Everybody here is talking of the big entertainment and El Verano will turn out to welcome their favorite, Willie Meehan, who puts on a couple of acts. Meehan is some actor, much resembling the great Jim Corbett in vaudeville, and formerly was a heavyweight boxer of world fame, being the only boxer today who holds a decision over Jack Dempsey, whom he bested in a war benefit boxing contest in San Francisco some time back. Eddie Graney, the honest blacksmith, gave the fight to Meehan after four hard rounds. Dempsey would never give him a return match. Besides Meehan, other good acts are on the program, and the show will draw a large crowd.

FIFTY VOICES WANTED

With the idea of organizing a choral society which could participate in celebrations or at Christmas festivals for the community Madame Maerilla desires all men and women interested in music to enroll with her so that she may organize and train fifty voices. The idea has great possibilities and Sonoma has the voices, and talent for such an organization. Anyone who is desirous of joining the choral society can apply to Madame Maerilla at the studio or meet with the class any Thursday night. The Valley of the Moon Choral Society is something every musical person in the valley should foster and under the experienced training of the professional musician and vocalist, it can be made a great pleasure to all participants and be a decided asset to the community.

CITY TRUSTEES MEET

The city trustees transacted regular May business Wednesday night, including the letting of a contract for sewer pipe to F. Duhring for $283.

H. H. Hunt, who is subdividing the Chase tract, asked to have Austin avenue accepted as a street of the city, also a map of the Chase tract. Mr. Hunt agreed to gravel part of the streets. The city accepted the map and ordered it placed on file.

There was considerable discussion as to the penalty to be imposed on contractors who tear up the street pavement. It was suggested that a deposit to insure proper repairs be exacted.

Parking regulations were up for discussion.

Yesterday and Today.

Edward Bok, the well-known writer and philanthropist of Philadelphia, said at a dinner party:

"When I was a boy people visited New England to see Longfellow and Emerson, Thoreau and Hawthorne. Today, however—"

Mr. Bok smiled: "A sight-seeing automobile," he went on, "was trundling through the streets of Boston. The man with the megaphone was about to put the instrument to his lips when a young woman in a very short skirt twitched his coat tail and said impatiently:

"Say, guide, let up on that heavy stuff. We've all heard a lot about the splendid Oliver Wendell Holmes of Boston. Can't you show us inside a few of them for a change?"

REPORT EXAGGERATED
"Grace, I'm ashamed of you. I distinctly heard Jack Huggins kiss you twice out in the entry."
"It isn't true; there's a horrid echo in that old entry."

Lady-Bugs in Convention.
A convention of lady-bugs is as rare as it is interesting. Three weeks ago a trapper stumbled upon a mass of these tiny creatures, tens of thousands of them huddled together, dormant with the cold, on a sunny side of Glacier peak, in the Cascades, at an altitude of 7,304 feet. The collection of these little beetles covered the rocks over an area equal to a city lot. Every little crevice was tightly packed with the creatures.

Profitable Pursuit.
"Some men make money out of lumber, others out of wool, still others out of cotton, corn or wheat."
"A man can make money out of almost anything nowadays if he knows how."

"That's true."
"I've just met a member of the medical profession who told me he made $10,000 last year out of adenoids."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

But Nearly Every One!
Bride—Now, you did not have some one to kiss you every night before you were married.
Groom—No, not every night.—Way-side Tales.

Decency Dictates That Dry Laws Be Changed

SOMETHING must be done, not as a temporary measure or in another attempt to experiment at the expense of society and the very structure of our government, but something that will put an end to the horrible aftermath of prohibition. Without license or supervision of any kind, vile concoctions are peddled as beverages almost at the very door of our homes. The fact that there is a demand even greater than formerly, that the hazards of bootlegging make prices high enough to be attractive to the thrifty, that the best citizens wink at a law they despise and become patrons of illicit joints, make possible conditions which have grown up like rank weeds everywhere.

It is futile to seek redress from present conditions by passing more prohibitory laws or by clothing local authority with more police powers. Graft and kindred notorious evils would soon have the state by the throat and the bootlegger, while driven from pillar to post, would still be operating somewhere, somehow.

There is but one way to rescue the country from the miserable mess for which impracticable, visionary fanatical prohibitionists are responsible. The present laws must be liberalized. License must again prevail. Authority must again be exercised over the dispensing of liquors to the people. They will drink. Under what conditions now rests with those in high authority. It must be determined and determined quick whether people are to patronize illicit, unscrupulous, unsupervised joints selling vile stuff at extortionate prices or whether they can openly patronize the decent dispenser operating under conditions held to be right and proper.

The liberalizing of present laws is imperative. The prohibition farce has become intolerable and is a menace. Neither jails nor raids, fines or confiscation of property will cure the evils for which prohibition is responsible. We have gone far enough into the great American desert to realize that it is a humbug mirage, beset by the worst kind of pitfalls, a humiliating and vitiating spectacle. The conditions prohibition sought to correct have not yielded to the drastic treatment forced on the masses.

A state enforcement law will only be adding fat to the fire and result in a train of by-products growing out of such evils as special privilege and protection money.

Hobson's newly organized society to educate the public on the evils of alcohol may in time result in greatly-to-be-desired world-wide temperance which after all is the only solution for curbing any excess. Evolution is sure, but it is slow.

Meanwhile the country must have a safety valve and relief from the most pernicious arrangement which has ever beset communities. Masked as dry and with no one to answer to, the vicious element is now getting away with it as they never even dreamed in the old days of real liquor and laws which at least were somewhat respected and adhered to.

Sonoma Valley's Milk Supply

WHILE Sonoma Valley is setting forth its advantages as a residence section and vacation wonderland the important advantage of its wholesome milk supply should not be lost sight of. Families are much concerned with the nutritive value and sanitary guarantee of the milk served them, particularly vacationers, who look to milk for health quite as much as climate or mineral water. To all of these and to our own people it is good to be able to say that Sonoma Valley's milk supply comes up to high standard. The State dairy inspector makes regular visits and insists on certain requirements. He finds most of the dairymen anxious to co-operate and in the exceptional case where he detects evasion or carelessness, he takes prompt action. As a result Sonoma Valley's milk supply is the best to be found anywhere in California.

Learn that the Maylon Players, a metropolitan troupe of exceptional merit and balance, will present The Man From Arkansas at the Don Theatre here Tuesday night, May 9th. Heading the Players are Robert E. Lawrence and Caroline Edwards, two of the strongest, most talented, most versatile artists on the stage today.

tated, the parade formed, marching first to Agua Caliente, then to Sonoma out to El Verano and to the Boyes Springs Hotel. The procession led by a brass band and followed by gaily decorated autos, including the royal equipage, were loudly cheered and greeted all along the line of march.

At the Boyes Springs Hotel an elaborate banquet was tendered the Queen and invited guests, after the parade. A splendid menu, oratory and repartee made it a delightful affair, culminating in the spirit of cordiality and good fellowship which marked the entire three days happy reign of the carnival's Queen.

Saturday afternoon the crowds enjoyed the many carnival attractions along the highway and witnessed the wonderful aviation stunts of Loop-King Murphy, who demonstrated his mastery of the air and had for his passenger on one trip Miss Ryus, the popular little postmistress of Fetters Springs. The ace is an overseas pal of her brother, who also made several trips with Murphy and participated in some of his most daring stunts.

Saturday night marked the coronation ball, with the grand march led by the Queen and an immense crowd thronging the Boyes Springs Theatre. Wilson's Serenaders, the new musical aggregation, which is to be featured at Boyes all during the 1922 season, proved extremely popular with the dancers as the attendance each night of the carnival went to prove. E. Wagner capably directed the floor, assisted by Eric Blomgren.

On Sunday Mrs. Farrell, mother of Queen Claire, entertained the royal party, committeemen and guests at a fine banquet at the Oaks. The dining room was illuminated and the tables decorated with rare bouquets of carnations and lilies of the valley. A splendid menu consisting of salad, tomato bisque soup, oyster patties, roast turkey, ice cream, sherbet and cakes was served. Chief Cause was toastmaster and called on Ex-Supervisor Hutchinson, James Baines, Mayor Minges, W. L. Murphy, Senator Slater and others for speeches, all of the talks ringing with compliments on the success of the carnival and the auspicious reign of the gracious Queen.

Following the banquet hour, there were exercises at the grand stand in which the royal party participated. District Attorney George Hoyle addressed the Sunday afternoon visitors to the carnival and complimented Sonoma Valley and Boyes Springs on the great success of the affair.

Games and contests for old and young were enjoyed throughout the afternoon and the concessions were liberally patronized.

The Kangaroo Court which was inaugurated Saturday night continued to gather in many notables in the dragnet and the Boyes fire house was the scene of much good-natured fun as prominent defendants were brought before Judge Post or Judge Loudon and cross examined by the prosecuting attorneys. Fines of money and more valuable collateral were gathered in for the good cause.

Sunday night festivities again held sway at the theatre culminating Monday night in the finals of the dance contest in which three popular couples participated. The judges, after much difficulty, awarded the prizes to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hensen, who were winners of the lady's wrist watch and the gentleman's diamond scarf pin for the best waltzers at the carnival.

Monday the festivities were centered around the May pole and the charming little May Day Queen, Mamie Soto, who won the hearts of all with her petite vivacity and clever dancing. She was presented with a handsome little watch as a token of the committee's appreciation of her.

The closing hours of the carnival were marked with expressions of regret that the happy reign of Queen Claire must end, and the chairman of the carnival committee, Mr. Cause, thanked one and all for their loyalty and support given the Valley of the Moon's first annual May Day fiesta. The carnival was a financial as well as a social success, about $2000 being the gross receipts. Net proceeds will be used in improvement projects such as the foundation of a regular lighting district in the Springs section.

TO OPEN AGUA CALIENTE SPRINGS FOR 1922 SEASON

Agua Caliente Springs will be open for the 1922 season next Saturday. T. H. Corcoran will celebrate the event with a ball and entertainment features to which he will welcome all his friends.

Mr. Corcoran, who is president of Sonoma Valley's Chamber of Commerce, predicts a big season for his popular and commodious resort. He says the mineral baths are attracting widespread attention and that Sonoma Valley with better roads will be the most popular health and pleasure resort in the West.

WEDDING BELLS FOLLOW BOYES SPRINGS CARNIVAL

Out of the May Day carnival festivities at Boyes Springs a real romance blossomed for on Tuesday Ida Marks, one of the charming attendants of the festival Queen, was married in Napa to George Lusk, a prosperous farmer of Sebastopol. A quiet ceremony united the couple in the presence of Mrs. Marks' mother and pretty young daughter.

Mrs. Lusk, who was one of the handsome brunette ladies-in-waiting to Queen Claire, is now on her honeymoon and will later make her home in the Anale section where her bridegroom has big farming and timber interests.

Mrs. J. Carson and her daughter, Miss Lucile were here from San Francisco to the carnival. Miss Lucile is head of the Cynthia Grey department of the San Francisco Daily News.

Mr. and Mrs. James O'Rourke of Santa Rosa were greeting old friends at the Mervyn dance last Saturday night. The well known railroad man was formerly in the hotel business in Sonoma and is owner of the Mervyn property at Glen Ellen now under lease to H. G. Buck. Mrs. O'Rourke was formerly one of the handsome Monahan sisters. Her youngest sister, Miss Bernice, of San Rafael was at the dance Saturday also.

Dr. Lynn MacQuiddy of Nebraska was called here on account of the sudden death of his father. MacQuiddy has finished his medical studies, which included training in the Scotland university during the war. He has since taken degrees here and is now practicing his profession in the middle west.

The hatchies of Fred Schell and Giegrich & Callahan report some of the finest hatchies in years. The 1922 season has been a banner baby chick year.

Sonoma's Modern Hostelry To Be Conducted By Bianchi Brothers, Formerly of Santa Rosa.

Sonoma's modern three story hotel, The Plaza, will be thrown open to the public next Saturday by Bianchi Brothers, the proprietors who are this week completing the furnishings of the hostelry. The lobby of the new hotel has substantial built-in features besides being provided with solid oak and real leather furnishings. The lighting fixtures are exceedingly handsome. The ladies parlor also on the lower floor is tastefully furnished with luxuriant rugs, overstuffed furniture, player piano and other features for the comfort and pleasure of guests.

The dining room has wall lights at the individual tables and also a beautiful center chandelier. There are boxes for parties and a banquet room for special occasions. The crockery, glassware and linen are all of the best, brand new and in excellent taste. The kitchen is provided with an oil burning range, ice boxes, cupboards and tiled drain boards. Everything is screened and sanitary.

The upper floors provide rooms single and en suite. The stairways are carpeted and each room provided with a good looking rug. The furniture is all in the ivory tints. The second floor rooms have private baths in connection and there is a roof garden veranda with sea grass tables, settees and arm chairs.

The furnishings are from the O'Connor Furniture Company of Santa Rosa and reflect quality and good taste.

Next Saturday the new hotel will be ready for business and Messrs Bianchi extend a cordial welcome to the general public to attend their opening. There will be a special dinner and entertainment features. Many out of town guests are expected as Bianchi Brothers have many friends in Santa Rosa and throughout the county.

J. T. MACQUIDDY LAID TO REST

J. T. MacQuiddy, who died suddenly Thursday of last week, was laid to rest in Mountain cemetery in the presence of his dear ones, including Lynn MacQuiddy of Omaha and a cousin, Miss Rossin, of Chicago. The latter relatives journeyed west to be present at the last sad rites.

Following the services Sunday at the Bean home were largely attended, the remains were placed in the vault on the hillside to await the arrival of the son speeding to Sonoma from Nebraska. On Monday he arrived with his cousin and a simple service on Monday marked the final obsequies for the respected and beloved pioneer.

Mr. MacQuiddy was born in Missouri in 1851. Nine of ten children born of his marriage to Miss Smith of Tennessee survive deceased. All were here for the funeral except a son residing in Pennsylvania.

GOVERNOR STEPHENS HERE MONDAY

Governor William D. Stephens will speak here in the interest of his candidacy for re-election on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the Grammar School auditorium.

Sonoma family: Several children were born to the couple but all but the surviving daughter died in infancy. Mr. Ciucci, who was a progressive citizen and good business man, served as a city trustee and was otherwise honored by the community.

Frank and above-board in all his dealings, honest and ever ready to help a friend, this old resident of Sonoma will be truly missed by everyone. His home has been the gathering place of bon vivants from all over the state and memory of the genial landlord who has passed on to eternity will ever recur to those who knew the clasp of his friendly hand and the smile of his kindly eye.

The funeral takes place today at 2 o'clock from St. Francis church and will be one of the largest concourses of sorrow which has ever passed through Sonoma's streets. Beautiful floral pieces which have been coming in ever since news of the death of Mr. Ciucci become known attest the love and regard of relatives, friends and lodge brothers. Deceased was a member of the Druids and Odd Fellows. He was 63 years of age. A requiem mass for the repose of his soul will be said Monday morning at 8 o'clock at St. Francis church.

ITALIAN AMBASSADOR TO SPEAK HERE

The Jack London memorial ball, which was to have taken place in the auditorium in Oakland this Saturday night, May 6, has been postponed until a later date. All tickets that have been sold for the event will be duly honored.

SAFETY FOR TRAIN WINDOWS

Both Passengers and Glass Have to Be Protected on Railways on Sakhalin Island.

If one looks at a map of Siberia, he will see a group of islands that swing south near the mouth of the Amur river and come closest to the coast of China at Pormosa and Fukien. Among them you will find the island of Sakhalin.

The Japanese declare that it wasn't very long after the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth that a representative of a Japanese baron landed at Sakhalin. But it wasn't much later that Russian emigrants stepped foot on Sakhalin, and they remained, while many of the Japanese who came to colonize this cold northern land shivered in their robes and left. By the treaty which ended the Russo-Japanese war Sakhalin was divided between Russia and Japan.

There are less than 60 miles of railroad in the island of Sakhalin, says an exchange. But even more curious than the loud-voiced crows that line the road to the shrine on the heights of Toyohara is the appearance of the windows of the coaches in which ride the travelers in Sakhalin.

The car windows are gay with stripes of paint laid across the glass. Red, white or blue, and perhaps a combination of these colors appear on each window. If one asks the reason, the reply will be that these lines of glaring color are a warning to the untutored passengers not to try to stick their heads out, for many, not having seen window glass before, imagine the windows are open when they are closed.

MADE HIS CASE TOO STRONG

Ungrateful Client Resented His Lawyer's Representations Concerning His Mental Status.

The visitor to the lawyer's office stood in amazement. "I say, old man," he exclaimed, "what on earth has happened to you? Had a motor smash, or what?"

The lawyer shook his head. "No. You remember that case the other day when I defended a man charged with assault? Well, I made a strong plea for him on the ground that he was a fool rather than a criminal."

"Yes, but—" "I did it so well that he was acquitted, and he waited for me outside the court."

English as She Is Spoke. Louie Chevrolet, the automobile engineer, has long since parked all ideas of ever accumulating a stock of pure English language.

"How could I grasp it?" says Louie, a Frenchman by birth. "How could I get wise to your American English when you talk it the way you do?"

Then he went on to relate a circumstance to prove his point. Several months ago he sat with a group of friends. They were talking about an acquaintance who had met with financial reverses.

"He's down and out," said one. "He's all in," declared another. "It's all up with him," the third remarked.

And poor Louie, wrestling to learn the English language, sat and wondered just which way the fellow went. Exchange.

Odd Case of Friendship.

A parrot and a kitten who belonged to the same owner were on very friendly terms. There came a day when the old home had to be given up for a new abode. The kitten was taken away first, and for hours after its departure the parrot reiterated the plaintive cry: "Where's my kitty? I want my kitty!" Next day the reunion took place in the presence of interested onlookers. The parrot, in its cage, was mounted on a table, and when the door of the room opened to admit the kitten it at once scampered across the carpet and leapt onto the table. With a chuckle of delight the parrot then descended from her perch, and thereafter the two intimates kissed each other through the bars.

CHILD NARROWLY ESCAPES
SERIOUS INJURY

Dorothy Lane, little 9 year old daughter of the Lanes of Boyes Springs, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Sunday when in crossing the road at the Boyes Springs carnival she darted in front of a passing car in order to avoid one going in the opposite direction. The fender of the car struck her and she fell under the machine, but fortunately the driver, J. F. Erickson, was proceeding slowly through the crowds and immediately threw on his brake. The wheels did not pass over the little girl but she was somewhat bruised and suffered from the shock. Eye witnesses declared the accident to have been unavoidable.

The child's folks were at the Queen's banquet when informed of the accident and immediately hurried to Boyes and had the child conveyed to her home. Dr. Thomson pronounced her injuries superficial which was a great relief to the family and also to the Erickson family, who greatly regretted the unfortunate occurrence. With Mr. Erickson in the family Ford at the time of the accident were Mrs. Erickson, Miss Mildred Erickson and Clifford Erickson.

Coroner Phillips pronounced the death due to natural causes, a weak heart.

WHAT? IN LOS ANGELES?

The sheriff of Los Angeles county has appealed to the Federal authorities to relieve him of the care of some of the bootleggers held by him for the Government, pending trial.

The county jail is so full that the bootleggers' feet are sticking out of the windows, and the sheriff considers this not decorative as well as unfair to violators of the state laws who should be accommodated.

OPPOSE WRIGHT ACT

The California Grape Protective Association has gone on record against the Wright State Prohibition Enforcement Act, and in a statement issued by President C. L. Crawford gives ten reasons why this measure (Proposition No. 2 on the November ballot) should be rejected by the voters of California. He says:

The California Grape Protective Association stands for the Federal enforcement of the Volstead national prohibition law as long as it is the law, but the directors believe this drastic legislation is a mistake and should be modified as promptly as possible. We consider the Wright Act, held up by the referendum of this organization, to be unnecessary.

First—Because it was adopted by the 1921 legislature despite the expressed wishes of the voters, who rejected a similar enforcement act by a majority of 65,062 just a few months before.

Second—California does not intend to inflict itself with a law it does not want. It has never favored prohibition and in 1914, 1916, 1918 and 1920 emphatically turned down prohibition state laws submitted by the dry forces.

Third—Because California has no desire to crowd her courts, already concerned with other offenses, with violations of the Federal statutes which properly belong in the Federal courts just as do, counterfeiting offenses, etc.

Fourth—Because the Federal government is better able to stand the expense of enforcement than California. Our taxes are high enough now.

Fifth—Because if the Wright Act is adopted, the paid dry politicians will be on the job at Sacramento in 1923 asking the State legislature to appropriate money to help enforce the state law and to tighten its provisions materially, for the Wright Act is not what they wanted; it was the best they could cram down the throats of intimidated legislators.

Sixth—Because we are convinced, after more than two years of prohibition, that the only way to wipe out the blind pigs and bootleggers who are the children of prohibition, is to modify the Volstead Act and permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beers under proper restrictions.

Seventh—Because we are satisfied that prohibition is being as strictly enforced in California without any Wright Act as in other states that have local enforcement laws which have not succeeded in wiping out the bootleggers and blind pigs.

Eighth—Because we believe that the chief object of the dry forces is not to bring more law to bear upon prohibition in California but to have the word go forth that California, the home of the vine, after four times repudiating prohibition at the polls, at last has given it her endorsement by placing the seal of her approval on the Wright Act.

Ninth—Because we know that, while the people of California are showing their loyalty to the nation by accepting the Volstead Act, they are not in sympathy with it because this law has made us a nation of hypocrites, has given birth to the despicable blind pigger, has made law-breaking popular, has brought graft and corruption in public office and has given special privilege to the rich and taken away the harmless glass of beer from the workingman and the light wine from those accustomed to it.

Tenth—Because there is no moral or legal reason why California should adopt a State prohibition enforcement law since the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution does not make it imperative for a state to adopt concurrent legislation but leaves the matter optional with each state.

Mrs. Nettie Mammel has had the pleasure of a visit from her daughter, Gora, who resides in Southern California. The pioneer mother who resides here with her daughter, Mrs. Florence Cutter is in very frail health and her daughter came from the south to be with her and cheer her for a few days.

MOTORCYCLE STRIKES SON OF E. CORNELIUS

Preston Cornelius, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Cornelius of West Napa street, was run down by a motorcycle ridden by W. Ritz and painfully injured last Sunday. He was thrown about 25 feet and when taken to his home was unconscious for some time following the accident. His clothes had to be cut from his body, so badly were they torn and pressed against his tender flesh.

Since rallying from the shock, the child is improving and the doctor believes he has suffered no internal injuries.

FREAK POTATOES IN ENGLAND

Season Has Been Prolific of Remarkable Formations Which Are Credited to Peculiar Weather.

A potato freak, quite new to botanists, has been dug up in Wheatthampstead, Hertfordshire. The tuber proper, formed early in the season, has developed five matricidal offspring. They have grown inside the skin of the old tuber, completely eating out its contents. They have broken a slit in the skin, but only one of the five is at all inside. The appearance is of five eggs inside an oval basket or nest. It has been a year of freak potatoes, because in the forcing weather the tubers sprouted early and formed a new generation. These button potatoes often stuck out from the older potatoes in all sorts of queer shapes. A two-pound potato was dug up at Sutton Bridge, in Lincolnshire, which had a close resemblance to a rather crude doll, with arms, legs, head and eyes complete. But it is no new thing for the new potatoes to grow inside the parent.

"Do you know anything that's good for the stomach?"
"I am no authority, but I understand that food is highly recommended."

Church Sent by Parcel Post.

It is almost unbelievable that a whole church was sent by parcel post, and yet it is so, and in northern California, in a place called Orleans, the church is now standing. The lumber was delivered by parcel post, as also the shingles, the bell, the stained glass for the windows, even a stove, the Bible, the prayer books, and hymnals. In winter it takes from two days to two and one-half, when the snow is on the ground, to reach Orleans from the railroad station, which is several miles away. Seven miles of the journey have to be made on skis, and the mules which carry the burdens have to have snowshoes specially made for them. It is a herculean task to transport freight, but the Haroc Indians were not daunted by such trifles, and after materials arrived at the station, or rather, post office, they got busy, and now they have a cozy church in which to worship.

Too Much.

A very stout man mounted the scales in a drugstore the other day, and dropped a penny in the slot. There was some wait, and the clanking and rattling of the inward of the contraption, and the pointer finally came to rest somewhere not far from the 300 mark.

There was an unseen witness to the ceremony, and as the fat man woefully contemplated the result, the voice of a wee, small boy piped up from behind him:
"Say, Mister, how many times did it go around?"

Fish Found in Odd Places.

An Ontario reader referring to our account of the fish seen in Saskatchewan in the cattle foot-holes after a rain, says he had a similar experience several years ago. He says that he saw numbers of fish on the ground in foot-marks immediately after a heavy warm rain. The fish were about two inches long and must have come down with the rain. He was living in the mountains in Tennessee. It was in the year of 1886 or 1887—Toronto Globe.

Ends Odd Family Compact.

The will of Miss Phoebe E. Mills, whose death at the age of eighty-three removed the last survivor of a strange compact made sixty years ago by seven brothers and sisters never to wed, but to work for the common interest of all, distributed an estate estimated to exceed $500,000 among various churches and charitable institutions in the United States.

Aerial Lines in Europe.

Twenty aerial lines, with a total length of 6,000 miles, are in operation in Europe. France holds first place with lines covering 2,900 miles. Germany comes second with 2,700 miles, and England third. In addition to these lines there are many local lines, in which Italy leads with 1,200 miles.

HE SAID IT WITH CHEESE

Judge Rudolph of Novato, who fined Coroner Phillips $50 for speeding some years ago, has been looking for a way to make amends. The judge runs a cheese factory, so the happy thought occurred to him to send some nice, juicy cheeses to the coroner as evidence of his strong and ripening friendship. The cheeses were expressive of just that and Phillips believes that it is an omen that all would be rivals for the office of coroner and public administrator will "cheese it" when they hear how the obdurate judge who soaked the county official 50 bucks took such a shine to the defendant that he simply had to express his feelings on the eve of the oncoming primaries and said it, not with flowers, but with cheese, good, ripe fromage de Brie.
